

JOIN US IN WORKPLACE GIVING

As an employee of Northern Health, you have the unique opportunity to support and contribute to the health service and the care of our patients and families through Workplace Giving.

Workplace Giving donations are made through regular pre-tax payroll deductions, so there is no need for a tax receipt. Just nominate your preferred donation amount per pay period, and you're ready to go. By making regular donations, you'll receive the tax benefit immediately, and you'll be helping to make a difference in our health service.

How Workplace Giving Makes a Difference

All donations to the health service are made to Northern Health Foundation, the charity arm of Northern Health. The Foundation guides fundraising activities on behalf of Northern Health and raises and distributes funds so it can:

- Purchase state-of-the-art medical equipment and technology to improve the care given to our patients;
- Support the upgrading of patient and visitor facilities across Northern Health;
- Fund PhD Research Scholarships that will support groundbreaking medical research.

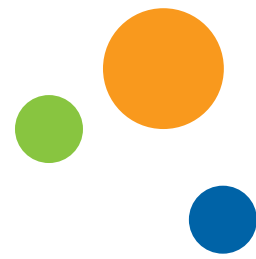

To become a Workplace Giver, simply complete the Authorisation Form on the reverse side and submit it to Northern Health Foundation at northernhealthfoundation@nh.org.au
